

Service Delivery Policy

LGM Analytics / Lottery Guess Master

Effective / last updated: September 8, 2026

This policy explains how LGM Analytics digital services and member access are delivered.

1. Digital delivery only

All LGM Analytics services are delivered digitally through LotteryGuessMaster.com. No physical product is shipped.

2. Public and member content

Public preview content may be available without a paid membership. Member-only tools, Daily Insights, Daily Sheets, and other plan features require an eligible LGM account and the access level included with that plan.

3. Activation

Paid access is generally activated after successful payment confirmation. For supported payment flows, LGM may match the payment email to an existing website account automatically. If payment occurs before account creation, the customer may need to create an LGM account using the same payment email. Support may manually review or activate access when necessary.

4. Email matching

For automatic activation, customers should use the same email address for payment and the LGM account. If access does not appear after successful payment, contact support@lotteryguessmaster.com.

5. Access period

Subscription access remains available while the membership is active and paid, subject to the plan terms. Time-limited one-time access ends at its stated expiration date. Payment reversals, refunds, chargebacks, cancellations at the end of a paid period, or account violations may affect access.

6. Technical requirements

Customers need a compatible browser, internet connection, and access to their registered email/account credentials. Temporary outages, maintenance, browser cache, device settings, or third-party provider issues may affect immediate access.

7. Support

Support is available by email and WhatsApp for account access, payment confirmation, and service questions. Typical support response time shown on the website is 24-48 hours.
